Pam McCloud Smith, Executive Director

Dear Friends,

2016 was a rewarding year full of successful adoptions, lost pet reunions, construction and remodeling, shelter and community events, and most importantly a year in which we made great strides in our commitment to fiscal responsibility. Last year, we made many sacrifices and took a hard look at our revenue goals, while making deep cuts on our expenses. This resulted in ending the year in the black, with everyone working hard to ensure the success of the shelter. We continue to work on building a stronger financial foundation so that we can thoughtfully implement our new strategic plan in a sustainable way over the next three years. Throughout 2016, the Dane County Humane Society Leadership Team worked on finalizing the shelter's strategic plan in order to have a clear direction and goals to head into the future.

As part of this plan, we assessed our vision, mission and values which build upon four areas of focus: animal welfare and advocacy, serving the needs of people in our community, enhancing our culture of philanthropy and collaboration, and most importantly, financial stability, through our fundraising efforts and the support of our wonderful donors. We are very excited to have these plans in place and to work towards the goals we have set for ourselves, to better the organization for the people and animals in our community.

In our challenge to focus on our core programs and services in 2016, we assessed and made improvements as resources allowed. Programs such as ringworm treatment, foster care and canine and feline enrichment and behavior modification, continued to improve the lives of the animals in our care. Programs and events like our pet food pantry program, Spay Days and two Community Dog Day events in 2016 helped improve the lives of pets in the community.

Last year, we also made great progress on some long-desired big projects. We completed the construction of our horse and livestock barn. Getting these animals their own dedicated living space allowed us to finally move forward on remodeling the Wildlife Center. Construction on that project began last fall and just finished recently, so we are ready for the upcoming busy season, accepting wild patients with much-improved facilities.

I want to thank you, our supporters, for remaining interested and engaged with us, and for all the ways you support us: adopting, volunteering, attending our events, donating towards our causes and telling others about the good work being done at Dane County Humane Society each day. For the animals we serve and for the community we live in together, we are very grateful to you for everything you do to further our mission.

Toto's Gala: There's No Place Like Home

Our fourth annual Toto's Gala was a record breaking success for DCHS! We celebrated more attendees, more sponsorship support and more donations the night of the event than ever before! With 287 friends and supporters in attendance, we were able to raise a grand total of over $122,000! We were grateful for the opportunity to recognize our Philanthropists of the Year - Karen Walsh and Jim Berbee. As always, we appreciate everyone who contributed to the event through a silent auction donation, your time or financial support. Thank you especially to our event sponsors, including The BerbeeWalsh Foundation; National Guardian Life; Lands' End; Laffey, Leitner & Goode, LLC; and many others. Visit giveshelter.org to see a complete list of supporters and photos from the evening.

Haunted Trail

Every fall, dedicated volunteers transform our walking paths into one of Dane County's spookiest haunted trails. This past October, we saw hundreds of supporters brave the monsters in our woods and help raise thousands of dollars for animals in need!

Be sure to join us this October as we expand our family-friendly trick-or-treat afternoons. This is a great opportunity to enjoy a fall hike while showing off creative costumes. The kids will love meeting friendly monsters and villains along the trail. Be sure to come back for the adults-only Haunted Trail once the sun sets, if you dare!

Frosty Dog Jog

On Saturday, February 18, the Madison Winter Festival invited DCHS supporters to beat the winter blues by taking part in the annual Frosty Dog Jog! This fun run and walk welcomed dozens of DCHS supporters and their canine companions to Madison's Elver Park. It was a beautiful winter day and we can't thank the Madison Winter Festival enough for including us in this fabulous event! Thank you to everyone for participating and raising over $1,000 for pets in need.

If you'd like to host your own independent event to support DCHS, learn more at www.giveshelter.org/host-a-fundraiser.html.

Camp Pawprint - Summer Break

June 12-16, 19-23, 26-30 July 10-14, 17-21, 24-28
July 31-August 4 August 7-11, 14-18, 21-25

Your child can spend their summer with Dane County Humane Society! Camp Pawprint is a series of week-long day camps for children ages 7-13. Campers enjoy animal-related lessons, presentations and activities, while having fun with other animal lovers! We have three themes – Humane Helpers, Creature Careers and Go Wild. Humane Helpers focuses on animals that are kept as pets and how to care for them. Creature Careers explores a variety of animal-related professions. Go Wild highlights exotic pets and wild animals. Camp is held from June 12-August 25, with the exception of the week of July 4th. To learn more and register for camp, please go to www.giveshelter.org/camp-pawprint-summer-break.html!

Dogtoberfest

September 10, 2017

Join us for Dogtoberfest, a celebration of brews, tunes, pups and you! Last year, we welcomed nearly 900 guests and their canine companions to Capital Brewery's beautiful Bier Garten. This year, with the generous support of Spectrum Brands and their dedicated employees, we will enjoy live music, Capital brews, delicious food, canine costume contests and more! Come one, come all, because this event is sure to bring a wag to every tail this fall.

Bark & Wine

September 23, 2017

Dane County Humane Society's longest running fundraiser is back for its 15th year this September. Bark & Wine is your unique opportunity to meet many current and alumni DCHS animals, explore the shelter, meet our dedicated staff and volunteers, all while enjoying live music and delicious hors d'oeuvres. VIP guests will have special access to fun foodie and animal experiences! VIP and general admission reservations will be available this summer at giveshelter.org – with special early-bird pricing available in July!

Alumni Updates

► Nala & Justine arrived at Dane County Humane Society packing a few too many pounds, but thanks to the support of West Towne Veterinary Center and their weight loss program, these adorable kitties were able to lose some of the weight and find a fantastic forever home together. Nala and Justine are now the resident office cats at Towns & Associates, Inc.

"Nala and Justine are settled in and making their marks at Towns & Associates, Inc. They have called Towns their home since January and we can't imagine them not being here!"

"Nala and Justine have their routines and favorite sleeping spots—most of the time Nala sits in her red chair at the desk and Justine perches on her cat tree by the window. A convenient spot for lots of pets and attention! Thank you DCHS for the opportunity to adopt these lovable, sweet cats at our workplace." - Krystle Naab

▼ Duncan & Caboose "Happy adoption story! Brothers Duncan (fka Pete) and Caboose (fka Punk) received wonderful care at Dane County Humane Society until November 6, when two women (who both happen to go by the nickname AJ--What!) adopted the boys. They met while filling out paperwork and excitedly waiting for their furry babies to be released to them. The AJs exchanged phone numbers, and a few weeks later, began texting adorable photos, discussed growth and silly-sweet behavior. Today...the boys were reunited!"

"We had an AWESOME play date. Duncs and Caboose played amazingly well together, and were both affectionate to the other's mom, without jealousy. Such a happy day!!" - AJ Viola Downey

Wildlife Center Grand Re-Opening

Spring has sprung! On the morning of March 22, the first baby of 2017 arrived at Dane County Humane Society's Wildlife Center. A nestling great horned owl was found on the ground on the west side of Madison and brought to the Wildlife Center for a medical evaluation while volunteers searched for the baby's nest site.

This baby great horned owl was one of the first wild animals to be examined and cared for in the newly remodeled Wildlife Center. Dane County Humane Society's Wildlife Center, formerly known as Four Lakes Wildlife Center, has been rehabilitating injured, ill and orphaned wild animals since 2002, treating just over 100 patients in that inaugural year. 15 years later, over 3,000 wild animals come into the Wildlife Center annually.

In October 2016, a remodel of the Wildlife Center began in order to accommodate the growing number of wild patients and to provide a better workspace for the dedicated staff and volunteers.

"This remodel will allow us to provide improved housing for wildlife patients as they grow and recover from injuries or illness, and will provide a more comfortable work environment for the volunteers that are vital to our operations. The remodel will allow the Wildlife Center to continue to be an important resource for people that are trying to build a more humane community that is inclusive of our wild neighbors," says Brooke Lewis, CVT, DCHS Wildlife Rehabilitation Supervisor.

On Saturday, March 4 the newly remodeled Wildlife Center celebrated its grand re-opening. Over 300 donors to the project, volunteers, friends, family and members of the public came to enjoy this rare, behind-the-scenes look into this lifesaving program.

Now, it is back to business for the Wildlife Center as they dive into their busiest time of year. This included renesting the first baby great horned owl of the year, who, after receiving a clean bill of health, was able to rejoin his parents and siblings on the west side of Madison.

If you find a wild animal that you believe is in need of assistance, please contact Dane County Humane Society's Wildlife Center at (608) 287-3235 before intervening. New patients are admitted by appointment only. Our knowledgeable staff and trained volunteers are happy to talk you through the next steps. A baby's best chance for survival is with its mother in the wild, and we can help you determine when help is truly needed.

Cocoa and other retrievers as they arrive at Dane County Humane Society

The Sweeter Side

On a February afternoon, 3-year-old Chocolate Lab, Cocoa, was settling into her new home after having been adopted from Dane County Humane Society (DCHS). It had been a week of big changes for this pup (formerly known as Coffee) who, along with a sweeter name change, was starting to learn about the sweeter side of life.

On Saturday, February 11, Cocoa and 10 other retriever mixes were brought to DCHS after authorities in Columbia County negotiated the surrender of 49 dogs from a former breeder.

Less than 24 hours earlier, a representative of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection contacted DCHS Executive Director, Pam McCloud Smith, who also serves as Board President for Wisconsin Federated Humane Societies, a network of humane organizations working together to end animal cruelty. Pam immediately began calling these partner shelters to see how many could come to Columbia County the next day to take these dogs into their care. Five shelters, including Dane County Humane Society, answered the call.

Cocoa snuggles with her favorite toys in her new home

Cate's grandsons take turns reading to an initially shy Cocoa to help her come out of her shell

"Cocoa is like a flower bud ready to bloom. She has so much joy and energy that wants to come out, she just needs a little reassurance to let her know it's okay."

-Cate, Cocoa's new mom

Cate's caring patience is now helping Cocoa to feel safe and happy in her new home. Cate never hurries Cocoa along in this process. Cocoa, who is sometimes nervous with doorways, will have Cate and a handful of treats waiting for her on the other side, even if it takes her 10 minutes to build up the courage to walk through. Cocoa and Cate's next challenge is building up Cocoa's courage while in the car so she can travel to work with Cate and be by her side all day.

Your generous support of DCHS helps dogs like Cocoa every day along their journey from suffering to happiness. Please consider continuing your support with a donation that helps make their stories the norm, rather than the exception, at Dane County Humane Society.

>>Written by Marissa DeGroot, Public Relations Coordinator

A group of dedicated DCHS volunteers picked up 11 nervous dogs, all in desperate need of comfort and care. They were covered in filth and many were malnourished. Once at DCHS, they were immediately examined by DCHS's expert Animal Medical Services team. They discovered each of the 11 dogs was suffering from severe dental issues and some of the dogs required additional medical attention.

Apart from their similar looks, it was easy to identify dogs from this group of 11 because of their sweet, gentle demeanors. You could feel them lean into every pet and they would fall asleep in your arms as you held them. Every one had the unbelievable capacity to love and forgive, even after everything they had been through.

Your support of DCHS's general operating fund allows DCHS to respond at a moment's notice to situations like this one. You help provide comfort and medical care, behavioral assessments and an experienced team of Adoption Counselors to help find pets like these loving homes.

In the case of Cocoa and the other retrievers, they needed help finding families that had the patience and understanding to help them blossom from timid dogs into happy, carefree pups.

This was exactly the sort of patience and tenacity Cate showed when she traveled to DCHS five days in a row, attempting to meet Cocoa. Cate was waiting to see if an adoption hold on Cocoa would take. Finally, she was able to meet this sweet girl and take her home.
