

Dane County Humane Society Board of Directors Position Statement Companion Animals at Large

Approved June 16, 2020

Companion Animals at Large

The Dane County Humane Society (DCHS) encourages guardians to keep their companion animals indoors or properly supervised. Companion animals running at large are at risk for injury or abduction. In addition, if frightened or threatened, these unsupervised animals can also pose a threat to the safety of the public and other animals. DCHS supports laws prohibiting companion animals running at large.
